SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1902.

Many of our contemporaries are unsparing in their criticism of our Constitutional Convention and some even go so far as to say, "that they commendable step taken by that body" Accepting their statements as correct the conclusion is inevita ble, that a great mistake was made i the selection of the members of the Convention and it may be that the mistake was, in not committing the work of that body to the newspape men of the State. It is possible, much blinded by their love for corporations to appreciate the labors of people, or comprehend so poorly the work of our Constitution makers that they cannot do them justice, or do not approve because they prefer to be with the crowd with whom it is vention. But whatever the cause for the criticism which is being indulged in, we decline at least for the presen to change our opinion, that the work of framing a new organic law is in the hands of many of the very best men of the State, and that satisfac tory results may yet be expected of them. If disposed to throw stones at the body we could not, in the light of the statement already made and not disputed, so far as we know, that the work of the Convention to date will result in the saving of $500,000 to the State annually, and our contem poraries must be blind to the truth if they cannot see in these figures that some "commendable steps" have been taken by the Convention and that is their duty to revise their opinions and give the members the credit which is due to them.

Admiral Schley's appeal to the President from the findings of the adopted. Court of Inquiry, asking him to approve Admiral Dewey's opinion and set aside the opinion of the majority of the Court, was published Wednesday by Secretary Long. Threefourths of the appeal is given to the argument, citations and testimony taken by the Court of Inquiry in An amendment was adopted em-support of the contention that powering cities to sell all franchises what it ought to be, or will not say, that if he should decide that Schley was not in command at Santiago and entitled to the glory as the Mayor. commander for the great victory, that he has too much of the venou and littleness of those surrounding him to be the President of a great country. His fame will suffer more by an adverse decision than will that of Admiral Schley. The people of the country, regardless of their political opinions, know to whom the credit of the victory of Santiago is due and are willing to give it to him, and the truth of his tory cannot be so perverted by the MacClays, employed by the naval clique to rob him of it, that his fame will not be secure in the hands of future generations, even if the President should decide against the claims of Admiral Schley.

The comforting assurance is given us by J. Pierpont Morgan, the great financier, that good times are ahead of us and will be for a long time to come. Prosperity is not only here, but in his opinion "all the signs, all the promises, all the indications are that it is with us to stay." He scouted the idea of a turn in the tide predicted by some Wall street men by saying: "I have absolute faith in the future. As to recessions, as to set-backs, where is there a sign of anything discouraging? There is enough business already in hand to men and interred by the side of his father the future. As to recessions, as to large the future is anything discouraging? There is remains will be brought to Richmond and interred by the side of his father the future. Constitutional Convention

The Constitutional Convention for the second time has refused to grant the second time has refused to grant an annual appropriation of $50,000 to the University of Virginia. The vote was 39 to 33. The announce-ment of the result was received with suppressed applause. This presuma bly ends one of the most interesting bly ends one of the most interesting fights of the convention. The friends of the University made a powerful tight and were supported by the most influential men in the State, both in and out of the convention. There were two sentiments which compassed the defeat of the proposition. One was against making any appropriation in the Constitution and the other a jealousy of other State institutions and the friends of the public school system. Entered at the Postoffice at Accomac C. H., State institutions and the Ya., as second-class matter.

Mr. Stuart, of Russell, the chair uan of the committee on agriculture ubmitted its report. Radies ubmitted its report. Radica changes in the Department of Agri changes in the Department of Agriulture are proposed. The report

When you start out with your hard earned CASH or PRODUCE do not forget that E. F. Guillette is in business again at his old stand and he is there for business if low prices are any inducements. We expect to fill up and are getting in new goods every week until we will carry a much larger line than we have ever carried before and expect to sell them much cheaper than we have done in the past. Our aim is to carry everything that are usually kept in country stores at a very low price and our terms are cash or produce. Many things in Winter Goods will be marked down, such as Gum Boots, Winter Clothing, Shirt and Pant's goods, so as to close them out to make room for Summer Goods. Our aim is to sell everything cheap and we hope to do more business this year than ever before. In Groceries we propose to keep a full line of at all prices. We have a large coffee mill now and will keep all grades of coffee from 10 cents to 30 cents per pound, and if you like will grind it free of charge.
